Extended Drought Poses Continued Danger of Fires

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Officials were on the lookout today for persons who may have missed an order closing New York State's parched forestlands to the public because of the worsening threat of fires.

The State Conservation Department reported Monday night that at least 58 fires were crackling in the sun-scorched woodlands but that the rate of outbreak had dropped since the state closed the woods Saturday.

A department spokesman said that the decline in the number of new fires was "a little encouraging" but that the prolonged drought posed continued danger.

Parched for Two Weeks

More than two weeks have passed since the thirsty forests enjoyed a soaking rain, and the Weather Bureau foresees no relief for at least four more days.

One Conservation official said prayers might be the only answer, and an Episcopal rector asked nearly a dozen churches in the Albany area to hold special services.

Conservation officials moved out on foot, by boat and by automobile Monday to tell hundreds of campers and hunters they had to leave the woods because of the fire threat.

Complicated Task

The clearing task was complicated somewhat by the Thanksgiving Day Holiday yesterday in Canada. Many Canadians had traveled to remote Adirondack Mountain areas for the three-day weekend. In the Saranac Lake district alone, the Conservation Department said, more than 50 Canadians had camped at the Lake Colden area of Mt. Marcy.

The campers cooperated with the department director William Petty reported.

Rangers received help in the clearing operation from firemen and volunteers whose number reached into the thousands, the department said.

Keep Close Watch

Although no sizable fires broke out Monday, the department kept a close watch on fires on Spruce and Black Mountains (Continued on Page 8, Col. 7)

Pennsylvania Is Like Tinderbox, Begging for Rain

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania is begging for rain. Its woodlands are as dry as tinderboxes.

The threat of serious forest fires grows ever more ominous with each passing day.

Public water supplies are rapidly shrinking to critical levels in many communities.

In at least 18 communities, the critical stage already has been passed.

These are the conditions that generally prevail as the commonwealth looks for relief from its second consecutive year of drought.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Harrisburg reports there have been drier years in Pennsylvania, but the severity of the current (Continued on Page 8, Col. 7)

Viruses, Cancer Tie Disclosed

Cites 6 Findings On Possible Links

NEW YORK (AP)—There is "little reason to doubt" that viruses may be the cause of some types of human cancer, an official of a leading cancer research institute said today.

Shed New Light

Dr. James T. Grace, assistant director of Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, cited six findings which, he said, shed new light on possible links between viruses and human cancer.

1. Two adenoviruses, known to cause reddening of the eyes and upper respiratory infections in humans, have been shown to cause malignant growths when injected into newborn hamsters.

2. Newborn hamsters develop cancers after injections with a monkey virus which also causes changes, highly suggestive of malignancy, in human cells grown in laboratories.

3. Studies of tissue and blood plasma from patients with leukemia have revealed particles which resemble the virus particles seen in mouse leukemia.

4. A strain of virus which normally causes malignant growths in chickens was recently shown to produce similar growths in newborn monkeys two to six weeks after inoculation.

5. A virus which causes benign tumors in monkeys also produces similar tumors in humans.

6. Environment may determine the distribution of an unusual form of childhood cancer in Africa. The disease, he said, occurs only in children living in areas with an elevation of less than 5,000 feet, a minimum temperature of 60 degrees or more and a rainfall of more than 40 inches a year. Grace said the pattern might be explained by transmission of a causative virus by an insect vector, such as a mosquito, which can only live in that type of climate.

Grace said the findings were gathered by several research institutions, including Roswell Park.

He spoke at the scientific session of the 17th world medicine association.

Heitzman Charges Uptown Kept in Dark on Renewal

Former 12th Ward Alderman John P. Heitzman, who is again Democratic candidate for the post, asks Mayor John J. Schenck by letter to arrange for a neighborhood public meeting to deal with uptown urban renewal plans.

The letter, a copy of which was released for publication today, said:

"It is a well known fact that procedures regarding urban renewal can be quite confusing to the average citizen. Public apathy towards the program being commonplace until the homeowner finds himself in the center of a project area.

Would Hear Suggestions

"Under Mayor Radel's administration the people in the Broadway East and Broadway West projects were granted public hearings, not only to hear the urban renewal officials explain the workings of the projects, but to give the people a chance to ask questions and offer suggestions and criticisms. The homeowners as well as the tenants were given consideration.

"The uptown project, under your administration, seems to be designed to keep the homeowners in the dark. Most Murphy Street residents have talked only to the assessors or appraisers and to no one else. They've been told that they may lose their homes. Even though a few might not object to being evicted to provide public hearings for these people, regardless of whether or not it is required by law.

Asks About Machine

"If you, as chief city official, were not willing to arrange such a hearing then it should have been handled by Twelfth Ward Alderman Machione, who ought to be concerned. Hearings were held in the Broadway East project by Alderman Tomaszewski and Woerner and in Broadway West by Alderman Sass who received maximum cooperation from urban renewal officials. While residents of these areas had aldermen who were interested in their problems it appears that the Murphy Street homeowners are not as fortunate.

"I urge you, at your earliest opportunity, to arrange for a neighborhood public meeting for these people so that they may be better informed as to what is in store for them."

Newspapers Are Saluted by JFK, Preserve Freedom

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy saluted the nation's newspapers Monday, saying that "no other nation in the world enjoys a press as responsive to the needs of freedom."

In a statement marking National Newspaper week, Kennedy said that newspapers play an increasingly important role in informing a free people, adding:

"Critical examination of the policies and actions of our government by its citizens is essential to an open society. This primary role of the press carries with it the knowledge that with freedom goes responsibility."

He said the country is fortunate "to have a press which increasingly seeks higher standards of responsibility and service."

Selling Job On Tax Cut Starts Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon began the job today of selling President Kennedy's tax cut package to what may be the toughest customer on Capitol Hill—Sen. Harry F. Byrd and his Senate Finance Committee.

After waiting through 20 days of closed hearings, Dillon appeared today with a thick sheaf of fact and figures that stressed a need for urgency in approving the $11 billion reduction this year.

Stresses Action Now

Said Dillon, "It is essential to the well-being of the nation that every effort be made to complete action on this bill before the end of the current year . . . the nation has waited too long for relief from the stifling burden of excess taxes."

Byrd, the Virginia Democrat called by many "the watchdog of the Treasury," opposes a tax cut without balancing cuts in spending. He prefers to hold up action on the cut until the 1964 session to put pressure on Kennedy to put the brakes on the budget.

Dillon argued strongly against this.

Says Need Pressing

"The need for a major program of tax reduction and revision is pressing," he said. "I firmly believe that to delay its passage would incur serious economic risks."

The President says the tax cut would give families extra money to buy dishwashers or make a down payment on a new car, plants money to buy new equipment, and free more money for investment. This, he and his advisers say, will put the economy (Continued on Page 8, Col. 1)

$27,000 Grant Given For Birth Curb Tests

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Shoshone Indian squaws know what they are doing when they drink a cold water extract as a birth control measure, two professors say.

The National Institutes of Health awarded a $27,000 grant Monday to the professors, Gestur Johnson and Stanley Sunderwirth, to continue their study for three years.

Sunderwirth and Johnson said the squaws drink the extract from roots of the lithospermum ruderalis plant to reduce fertility. The plant grows in mountainous areas of Colorado.

Sunderwirth and Johnson, on the staff of Colorado State University, said biological effects of oxidized acid from the lithospermum result in "inhibition of ovulation in the laying hen and inhibition of ovarian growth in the immature female rat."

30 of 60 in Stop-Smoking Clinic Have Quit Habit, Reporter Notes

(Editor's Note: A month has gone by since AP Staff Writer Michael Keating and 59 other men attempted to quit smoking in an experimental clinic sponsored by Roswell Park Memorial Institute, New York State's cancer-research center. Here is Keating's third report.)

By MICHAEL KEATING
Associated Press Staff Writer
BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—After 15 years and 109,500 cigarettes, I have quit smoking.

So have 29 other men—all of us participants in an experimental stop-smoking clinic that bolsters willpower with drugs and psychology, in degrees unknown to the participants.

The clinic has been under way for a month and I have not had a cigarette since it began. The desire for one now is almost negligible. A month ago it dominated me.

Navy Thinks Future Carriers Should Be Nuclear-Power Type

TOPS IN THE NAVY—Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth, left, is resigning, effective Nov. 1, and Paul Nitze, right, now an assistant secretary of defense, will succeed him. The White House announced that Korth, who last week protested against a tentative Pentagon decision to deny the Navy's request for more nuclear-powered aircraft carriers, submitted his resignation at week's end. ## Bids Farewell to Parliament

Can Reunite Land With Help Abroad: Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP) — Konrad Adenauer bade farewell to the West German Parliament as chancellor today, saying his dream of a reunited Germany is possible only with the help of friends abroad.

Solemn Hour for Leader

It was a solemn hour for the man who had been West Germany's only chancellor in the 14 years of rebuilding from the ruins of World War II. In dark coat and striped trousers, he listened soberly to praise from the Bundestag.

"Today," Gerstenmaier concluded, "the German Bundestag rises to you, Mr. Federal Chancellor, to announce thankfully to the German people:

"Konrad Adenauer has earned the gratitude of the Fatherland."

The Bundestag president read a short letter from President Heinrich Lübke, accepting the resignation of the 87-year-old chancellor.

Then Adenauer spoke of the dream that never was realized, the reunion of West Germany with Communist-ruled East Germany.

Reference to Reds

"A solution is not possible between ourselves and our opponents alone," he said, "but only with the help of our friends, and thank God, we have friends in the world again."

By opponents, he meant the Russians, who still occupy East Germany and have set up a Communist regime for its 17 million inhabitants.

Adenauer said that reunification could be seen on the horizon if Germans are watchful, cautious and patient.

"I am convinced that it will come," Adenauer said, "because unity cannot be denied to which often increases sharply in the absence of smoking.

The drugs were given for the first two weeks to only half of the 60 men. The other half received imitations. Neither the doctors nor the participants knew who received the real drugs. This information is contained in a code that will not be broken until the six months have passed.

But Ross thinks that at least some of the men quit without benefit of the drug — lobeline, which stimulates the nervous system and has other effects similar to nicotine.

Ross began a new clinic with another 60 men last week. He will start a new clinic every month for a year.

Costs Are Now Below Enterprise Power Potential

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy believes U.S. atomic know-how is moving ahead so rapidly that before long it will be dollar-foolish to build surface warships with fuel oil engines rather than nuclear power plants.

It is supported by the Atomic Energy Commission, which in effect touched off the current dispute between the Defense Department and the Navy.

Many months ago, it was learned, AEC Chairman Glenn Seaborg suggested to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara that nuclear power costs were coming down and that the Pentagon should give thought to wider application of atomic power to surface vessels.

May Win Yet

The Navy may have lost the first battle—but with powerful backing on Capitol Hill it may yet win the war.

Secretary of the Navy Fred Korth's abrupt resignation, announced Monday, appears the tipoff that McNamara probably will deny the Navy permission to install nuclear engines in a new aircraft carrier for which Congress last year voted $280 million.

The Navy is not talking about the studies it made to support its bid for the new carrier and, beyond that, for all future warships heavier than 8,000 tons.

But certain members of Congress are aware of the Navy findings, and the matter may come out on the public record if hearings are held.

Cost is a pivotal factor both on the issue of the carriers' future as a weapon either conventionally or atomic-powered, and the longer range matter of building warships of various kinds with nuclear power plants.

Costs Mounted Then

The United States some years ago made a start on a nuclear surface fleet but the Pentagon changed direction when costs began getting out of hand. The 85,000-ton Enterprise, world's first and only nuclear carrier, ran up a bill of $474 million.

But Seaborg reported to McNamara that technological progress had been so marked that four nuclear engines installed in the new carrier could furnish about as much power as the eight reactors that propel the Enterprise.

He also said that the new type (Continued on Page 8, Col. 6)

Smoke Is Problem During Fire at Trail Restaurant

The Sky Top Restaurant on Onteora Trail was open for business today after a kitchen fire broke out shortly before 10 p. m. Monday, causing minor damage.

Smoke was so intense at one point, however, that the restaurant manager, bartender and two waitresses were forced to leave to avoid being overcome by smoke.

Receiving oxygen for relief of smoke inhalation were Lewis Kublick, manager of the establishment, and his daughter, Francine; Michael Goffredi, bartender; and John Stacker, waiter. Two firemen were also treated, Jerry D'Anneo and John O'Leary.

Manager Kublick said that fire fighters made quick work of bringing the blaze under control, but remained at the scene to insure against any further damage.

West Hurley volunteers responded at 9:57 p. m. under Chief Fred J. Myers. All units were summoned shortly after.

Chief Myers said the fire started in the area of grease catchers over stoves in the kitchen and ignited rafters in the attic. West Hurley returned to service at 12:03 a. m. today.

West Hurley responded to four alarms in less than 24 hours as the fire threat increased throughout the state's woodlands. They were summoned to the West Hurley dump yesterday afternoon and about 8 p. m. answered a call which proved to be false. They returned from the Sky Top call on Route 28 in time to be called out at 4:30 a. m. to the Hallahan's Hill house fire between Sawkill and Ruby.

DISCOUNT PRICERS MUST DISCOUNT SERVICE.

Next to the cost of drugs, a pharmacist's salary is the greatest expense. This is proper for a pharmacist studies for many years at college and like a physician passes a state examination.

Discounters must lessen services like charges, or personal attention. Their pharmacists must speed up prescription dispensing, endangering safety. Our prices are fair, with no discount on any service. Our concern is the best possible pharmacy, not the lowest price.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Lost Wallet With $45

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jessie, a one-year-old Labrador who likes to retrieve things, pulled her biggest coup to date Sunday.

She returned from her daily run in Fairmount Park with a man's wallet containing $45. This by far topped the softball she retrieved Friday and the baseball Saturday.

Her master, Charles E. Rosenberg, turned the wallet over to park guards. Through identification papers, authorities located the owner of the wallet, Luke Jones of New York.

Jones said he lost the wallet Saturday while visiting here.

WINNER IN VOLS EXERCISE—The Union Hose Company No. 4 team of Kingston (above) was one of nine trophy winners in the firemanic exercise at Kingston Armory Sunday, sponsored by Ulster County Fire Chiefs Association. Other trophy winners were Bloomington Fire Department, Hurley Fire Department, Pioneer Engine Company, Ellenville and Walker Valley Fire Company.

Call to Self-Sacrifice

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—"The church that seeks to save its life will lose it," the Rev. Dr. Elliott L. Fisher, a Methodist official, told a meeting here. He urged church members "to give as much for others as for self."

HIT THE TARGET—Members of Bloomington Fire Department hit the target with a water stream during one of eight contests in which they participated. Bloomington Vols were one of nine trophy winners at the firemanic exercise conducted Sunday at Kingston Armory by Ulster County Fire Chiefs Association. Bloomington was the only department to participate in all eight contests. One of the contests was conducted in two sections won by Centerville Fire Company and Pioneer Engine Company, Ellenville. All are owned by Franklin S. Kelder, Jayway Farm, Accord.

These figures compare to the annual output of 7,211 pounds of milk and 270 pounds of butterfat by the average United States dairy cow.

Cornell University supervised the weighing and testing of the Holstein records as part of the breed's nation-wide herd testing programs.

THE FOREST ETERNAL

National Forest Products Week is to be observed during the October 20-26 period, and it's a well-deserved event indeed—redolent of the past and full of promise for the future.

The tree has symbolized a way of life and work since civilization began. At the same time, the techniques and principles that now dominate its commercial use are as modern as tomorrow morning. Wood isn't "justwood" any more. We know and use it in myriad forms, some unrecognizable, made possible by research and the miracles of chemistry. Waste is virtually nonexistent. Just about every last ounce and inch of every tree cut serves a worthwhile purpose of some kind. And that is one of the reasons why the timber products people have successfully met the competition from all the other products that can be used in a comparable fashion.

This, of course, would be meaningless unless the nation was assured of a huge and dependable supply of timber and its products in the long term future. We have that assurance. The day when the trees were cut and harvested with little thought to tomorrow is gone. Now the commercial forests are cultivated carefully and wisely. The administrators look far ahead, to the wants and needs that will come 50 years or more hence. Tree farms guarantee sustained yield. Thus, so to speak, present and future, so far as the forest are concerned, are kept in balance. The result is the forest eternal, promising ever more benefits to civilization.

HATERS OF DEMOCRACY

The overthrow of President Morales of Honduras and President Bosch of the Dominican Republic by the army brass of their respective countries, championing reactionary business interests, should be a warning to the West. It reveals how haters of democracy use spurious anti-communist crusades to saddle their people with governments that shun progress.

Thirty years after the global bloodbath which thwarted Hitler and Mussolini, fascism is not dead; it is merely biding its time. The pattern of its struggle, advanced by Franco of Spain, Salazar in Portugal and for a time by Peron in Argentina, is discernible in the Nhu regime in Vietnam. It was back of the Trujillo tyranny in Santo Domingo and now flares anew in the wake of his assassination. In Venezuela the liberal Betancourt, facing new elections, is being smeared as a pro-communist.

The inescapable conclusion that the free world's battle against left wing totalitarianism is being perverted by the forces of right wing totalitarianism. Their goal is the destruction of democracy.

Here in America extremist groups such as the Ku Klux Klan and the John Birch Society are seeking to rally all malcontents under their reactionary banners for the 1964 elections. Their effort is directed at trying to turn back the clock, politically and economically, in ways that neither Democratic nor Republican leaders generally condone. Those leaders could serve the public interest by speaking out more emphatically on this important subject.

A mob of Malaysians burned an effigy of Indonesian President Sukarno. It's different in Vietnam. There the dissidents set themselves afire.

'These Days'

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

EDUCATION OF AN AMBASSADOR

Minoo Masani, the former mayor of Bombay, India, is in this country, and he has some most interesting stories to tell about the effect of his homeland on Harvard's Professor John Kenneth Galbraith, the New Deal-Fair Deal economist who recently returned to the United States after spending two years as U. S. Ambassador in New Delhi.

According to Masani, Galbraith, after his contact with the distinctly non-affluent society of India, got to talking very much like any conservative, Right Wing—or classically liberal—economist. India's Nehru, of course, is anything but conservative or classically liberal. As head of the Indian government, Nehru has advocated Soviet-style planning, with priority being given to the "public sector" of the economy as fast as the Indian Congress Party is willing to push it. The result has been three successive Five-Year socialist plans which have resulted in a declining rate of growth, a drying-up of savings, and a stagnant condition in exports. The Indian economy is now growing at a rate of 2.2 per cent a year, a rate which shows up horribly when it is compared with the 20 per cent pace of growth in nonsocialist Japan. The average Indian, according to Masani, is no better off today than when the British pulled out of his country in 1947, for the population increases eat up the small economic gains.

Galbraith, says Masani, got a quick whiff of the true drift of Indian affairs, and proceeded to talk forthwith like an American economist of the Calvin Coolidge era. He began to lecture the Indians for putting no trust in the concept of profit. "What is this Post Office Socialism that you have?" he asked. "Don't you know that profit is a good thing?"

Since he was Ambassador to a nation which had asked the American government for the gift of a billion-and-a-half dollar steel mill, to be owned by the Indian State, Galbraith couldn't very well openly oppose the "public sector" idea as applied to local steel production. But when he came to sing his swan song as Ambassador last June 28 in a speech at the University of Bombay, Galbraith lit into the whole idea of putting industrial development in India ahead of agricultural development.

The central test of any policy, Galbraith told the Indians, is whether it promises to improve the position of the average person. And this average person in India is obviously the poor peasant who would like to know how to get a little more fertilizer and good seed on his land. Steel, for him, is a distant luxury that is meaningless. With the "average person" in mind, Galbraith attacked the Indian planners who hold the "accepted tests of the economist—the rate of investment and of economic growth." "An undue emphasis on the rate of growth," so Galbraith continued, "can lead . . . to undue emphasis on current savings and on increase of these savings through taxation . . . The average person may know of the hopes for the future. This can rarely be accepted with grace and contentment when living standards are close to the margin."

Masani, who is General Secretary of the Swatantra, or Freedom, Party of India and a member of the Indian Parliament, naturally welcomes Galbraith as an ally in the war against the "Stalin psychosis" as applied to forcing swift industrialization on an economy that hasn't solved the problem of raising enough food for itself. He knows, of course, that Galbraith, now that he is back in "affluent" America, will probably revert to his old habit of knocking private enterprisers and advocating vast increases in the U. S. "public sector." Nevertheless, it might be asked whether President Kennedy can trust Galbraith to support the sort of U. S. foreign aid that steel-mill-happy dictators like Nehru and Indonesia's Sukarno invariably want.

In this connection, Masani, who has talked in Washington recently with everybody from Senator Barry Goldwater to White House aide Arthur Schlesinger Jr., had an interesting chat with Walt Rostow, the Kennedy policy adviser who has theorized rather extensively about bringing primitive and backward economies to the "take-off place" by thrusting steel mills upon them. Rostow, it seems, has been guilty recently of having respect to his own gospel. He has been telling the Mexicans that the development of a thriving rural economy is more important than steel.

So what goes on here? Are Galbraith and Rostow getting ready to apply for jobs under a Republican Administration? Or are they about to urge Kennedy to make sure of the 1964 election by stealing some of Barry Goldwater's clothes? (Copyright, 1963, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Doctor Must Determine Cause of Chronic Anemia

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Is there such a thing as chronic anemia? What are the symptoms? What causes it and is there any way to control it?

A—There are several kinds of chronic anemia as distinguished from the acute form that occurs due to a hemorrhage. Chronic anemia may be due to a deficiency of iron, vitamin B-12 or other essential elements. The onset is gradual and the symptoms may consist of weakness, sore tongue, numbness or tingling of the fingers and pallor of the skin and mucous membranes.

Because there are several forms, you should have a careful study including microscopic examination of your red blood cells. Your doctor can then prescribe medicines you need to control the condition.

Although persons with leukemia usually develop some degree of anemia, anemia is never given as the diagnosis in such persons. Leukemia is a malignant disease of the blood believed to be a form of cancer and is characterized by an overabundance of white blood cells. Anemia is not a form of cancer and is characterized by a deficiency of red blood cells and hemoglobin (the red coloring matter in these cells). Persons with anemia frequently have a low white cell count, also.

Q—I am troubled with hoarseness due to mucus on my vocal cords. As I do a lot of singing this is a great handicap. Can anything be done to relieve this?

A—You should be examined by a throat specialist to rule out cancer of the larynx. This is fairly common and is not easily detected by your family doctor. If no cancer is present, one of the best remedies is the inhalation of steam with or without tincture of benzoin in the water. In order to be successful, you should have the steam kettle or generator on the floor and sit over it with your head draped with a bathrobe or sheet thus forming a steam tent. If you do this for 15 or 20 minutes two or three times a day you should be able to sing like a canary.

Q—My doctor says I have valvular heart disease and take digitalis. What is this medicine supposed to do and how long must I take it?

A—As a result of rheumatic fever or some other infection you have a scarring of a heart valve. This causes some leakage or back flow with each heart beat. Digitalis has a specific action on the heart causing it to contract more slowly and more forcefully. This helps to compensate for the leakage.

Although your doctor may want to adjust the dosage from time to time, you will have to take digitalis or some closely related drug indefinitely, unless it is decided that you are a fit candidate for surgical repair of the scarred valve.

Please send your questions and comments to Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Let Down the Drawbridge

Washington News

By PETER EDSON

Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The three birthday parties being planned for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower indicate he is still first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his Republican countrymen.

But recent political developments raise some challenges to this last distinction.

The first celebration, Oct. 12, two days before his real birthday, was held in Hershey, Pa. Organizers of this party — Roy Wilkinson Jr. of Bellefonte, Pa., and Admiral Lewis Strauss — insist it is strictly a social affair. The hosts will be about 400 of the 850 prominent citizens President Eisenhower invited to his many private little stag dinners during his eight years in the White House. They decided to repay his hospitality with a dinner in his honor, at $25 a plate, Dutch treat.

Even if it is nonpolitical or bipartisan — Jim Earley has accepted, for instance — all Republicans who attend are sure to be GOP campaign contributors later on.

THE FORMER PRESIDENT WAS 73 on October 14. He spent the day quietly with his family in Gettysburg.

But tonight he will come to Washington for a cut-rate dinner — $75 a plate instead of the usual $100 — which is frankly a political fund raiser for the 1964 campaign.

GOP National Committee Chairman William E. Miller of New York will be principal speaker. Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania toastmaster. The dessert will be cake made from Mamie's favorite recipe, and the hope is that 1,000 or more will have it and eat it, too, in the Sheraton Park's double banquet rooms.

For the Eisenhower name is still magic, and the GOP would gladly run the general for President again — or maybe even his brother, Milton—if it could.

Right now, however, the ex-president and Dr. Milton are concentrating on the Republican Citizens Committee to line up independent and Democratic support for the GOP next year.

Half a dozen Critical Issues Council task forces are being assembled to prepare papers on what Republican policy should be in the 1964 platform.

BUT EVEN BEFORE THIS EFFORT can get under way, it is being challenged by the rise of Sen. Barry Goldwater as a popular favorite for the presidential nomination.

It is already obvious that a platform which satisfies Senator Goldwater isn't going to satisfy the Eisenhower, and vice versa. The question is whether this pre-arranged fight for party dominance between the Eisenhower middle-of-the-roads and the Goldwater keep-to-the-righters.

It would also be a fight between the Old Guard—the ex-cabinet members and administrators of the Eisenhower era — and the self-styled New Guard of young Republicans who are all out for Goldwater. There is a third Republican force in this coming fight, too. This is the Republican delegation in Congress which now makes the working policy that counts.

FROM THE EISENHOWER WING of the party there may be some questioning as to where the Congressional wing gets its ideas.

After the House Republicans' futile fight to tie a budget-cutting amendment onto the administration tax cut bill, business leaders who have always given heavily to GOP campaign funds let it be known that, "You don't need to expect any money from us next year if you don't pass a tax cut bill this year."

Also, the national opinion polls on critical issues all seem to show preference for Kennedy administration programs over the Republican alternatives.

Some politicians discount polls as usually supporting the party of whomever is President. But if the national surveys are at all accurate on current leading issues, their findings are not reflected in GOP congressional leadership policies.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I remember years ago when folks used to say, "When I retire, I want to buy a little place in the country." Many of them wanted to come to the famous Catskill Mountain section, the Hudson Valley, or right around here. During their week or two summer vacation they came up here, and so fell in love with the place. When I stayed in New York City, first in a two family house in Flatbush Brooklyn, and later at the girl's "Y" in New York and also spent some time in those super-stone structures, where the weather outside becomes a mystery, New Yorkers with whom I was friendly or worked or went to school, when they found out I came from Kingston, from the Hudson Valley, etc., often envied me, because they saved all year to spend a week or two up here. Today that is all changed, the career girl goes by jet, or boat to far off places and the warm climate of Florida or California calls to New Yorkers, and retired people.

Yet from time to time, former Kingstonians or even New Yorkers, come up this way, looking for a little place, with a couple of acres to enjoy the cozy, predictable world they remember. Ulster County and Kingston are the move also, with the new highways, the urban renewal, the day of the homestead is fast disappearing. Generations no longer can visit grandma and sit under the big maple tree they remember when they were small. The pressure is on here as elsewhere, not by the old-timers, but by the out-siders. Many do not want the change, but they are not asked. The Sunday afternoons with family and friends is difficult today for children, grown and married having their ranch houses, with mortgages, and green lawns miles away from their relatives and parents to come together in any one place.

The best description of the Kingston of yesterday is covered in a paper-back book called "The Split Level Trap" by Dr. Richard E. and Katherine K. Gordon and Max Gunther, on page 44. "The people in this town knew each other well. The majority were old residents; many had been born and brought up here. Families were together; grandparents, parents, children, uncles, cousins, all living within the community. Having been near each other so long, and having shared the same general experiences, these people have similar tastes and values and understandings. . . they spoke the same language. . . they helped each other with life's chores and crises. . . they had deep roots here."

For instance since school consolidation, I do not even know what grades are where, what schools where and who goes

Drastic Measure

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Mrs. Albert M. Knudsen of Des Moines was in her kitchen enjoying a lively chat with her sister-in-law, Shirley McCallister of Omaha. The telephone rang. It was Western Union with a message asking Mrs. Knudsen what her plans were for the evening. The telegram had been sent by her husband from an extension telephone at their home. His explanation: "I went to the kitchen three times to ask the girls where they wanted to eat and drink. But they were so busy talking I couldn't get a word in edgewise."

Chances Are Diminishing For Debate on Election

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The chance of another "great debate" between Republican and Democratic Presidential nominees is diminishing.

Intimations have been coming from Democratic sources that President Kennedy might take the position that such a debate is unwise. No President of the United States has heretofore subjected himself to cross-examination by a political opponent. There is evidence, too, that Republicans are beginning to be doubtful about the TV show.

Sen. Goldwater has just declined to debate with Gov. Rockefeller, who recently challenged him. The Arizona Senator said he didn't see much good in an intraparty debate—with Republican fighting Republican on issues within the party. He didn't say whether, if nominated for the Presidency, he would challenge President Kennedy. Sen. Ribicoff, Democrat of Connecticut, thinks a "great debate" is almost certain. He says "it will be pretty hard for any candidate to refuse to accept a challenge of debate."

Sooner or later, however, some Presidential nominee will have the courage to give the American people the real reasons why the "great debate" idea is fundamentally a backward step in political campaigning.

For what does such a debate really prove? That one candidate is more agile in a fencing match of words than the other, or that one is better looking as compared to the others? What does it tell the country of the real issues on which the voter should make up his mind? Can a debate covering a variety of questions, with impromptu answers, do justice to either nominee's position in a campaign?

There is no reason why just as much value couldn't be obtained by giving each nominee separately a whole evening, if necessary, on the radio and television, to answer the questions propounded by a panel of interrogators. It would enable each candidate to answer questions in his own way and at whatever length he deemed desirable. If the rival nominee were to do the same thing the next evening or a few nights later and the same type of questions were asked, there could be an arrangement for rebuttals on subsequent evenings. This would be more informative to the voters than the catch-as-catch-can type of debate which was provided in the 1960 campaign.

The Nixon-Kennedy debates may have changed votes on both sides, and the consensus at the time was that Mr. Kennedy made a better appearance. But wouldn't that same comparison, solely on the basis of facial expression or agility in answering questions, have been possible if the debate had been longer each evening with each candidate being given a fuller opportunity to discuss on his own all the issues of the campaign?

The "great debate" of 1960 gave the impression of being a series of stunts to attract an unprecedented number of viewers and listeners. There have, of course, been TV shows with much larger audiences. Thus, it seems plausible that a "great debate" between Jack Parr and Bob Hope on almost any subject would attract an even bigger audience than any political candidates have gathered thus far.

American voters by the millions have revealed again and again a superficial attitude toward Presidential campaigns. Too many vote on the basis of a personal like or dislike of a candidate's appearance. Too many of them pay no attention to the issues or do not really understand the speech-making.

To center a whole campaign on a comparison of the candidate's personalities, or even on their fragmentary answers to questions in a TV debate, is to leave the choice of a top executive for the nation to the whims of a mass audience.

Debates are not conducive to a thoughtful presentation of issues. Even the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates of more than a century ago contain many a statement which both men regretted afterwards.

As the qualifications for voting are gradually changed to permit more and more people to vote irrespective of their ability to understand issues of a campaign, the tendency under a system of great debates on TV will be to nominate not the most capable executive in the country, but the most spectacular personality — the best showman. That's why, if President Kennedy declines to enter a great debate in the 1964 campaign, there will be no tears shed on the part of those citizens who don't believe in the stunt idea but who think each candidate should thoroughly discuss the issues throughout the campaign—each in his own way—so that the press and radio and TV can disseminate widely the views of both for careful study by the voters.

Opposes House Cuts for Mental Health Centers

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The New York State Association for Mental Health was on record today as being strenuously opposed to House cuts in federal aid for mental health centers.

The House action would "cut the heart" out of the program, the association asserted in a resolution adopted Monday at its 11th annual meeting.

The association urged a joint House-Senate conference committee to restore $612 million that the House removed from a Senate-approved bill providing for $860 million in federal aid.

The House deleted completely $427 million for personnel to staff local mental health centers, the association said.

In other business at the wind-up session of a two-day meeting, the association elected Dr. Ralph Collins of Rochester, a psychiatrist, as state president.

Collins succeeds Louis Winer of New York City, an attorney.

Also elected were: James W. Ryan of Albany, vice president; Mrs. Frank Ames of Malden Bridge, secretary; Mrs. William Rand of New York City, treasurer; and Henry J. Schwelienback of Poughkeepsie, Mrs. Leighton T. Wade of Olean and Mrs. Richard W. Zirinsky of Lawrence.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has acknowledged man's need for cultural and physical nourishment by proclaiming today as "Poetry Day" in New York State and next week as "School Lunch Week."

In designating School Lunch Week, the governor noted that the program provided "nutritious noon meals" in 4,000 schools throughout the state.

State Racing Has New Closing Date

NEW YORK (AP)—New York State's thoroughbred racing season has been extended to Dec. 7 this year, its longest in history.

The State Racing Commission announced Monday that Aqueduct Race Track will be permitted to remain open an additional six days, making a total of 226 racing days for the state during 1963.

The track originally was scheduled to close Nov. 7. Racing began this year in the state March 20, at Aqueduct.

It is believed that the extension was not actively sought by the New York Racing Association, which runs the big New York track.

Sources said the extension was the result of pressure from the state treasury in search of James Cox Brady, chairman of the NYRA, filed a letter for extension of the season on Oct. 9, saying in part:

"We do this with full knowledge that the weather in December may prevent us from racing."

Brady cited freezing conditions that often makes the track surface too treacherous to carry on a program.

Red Hook Man Is Apparent Suicide

State Police at Rhinebeck substation, said a 62-year-old man of Red Hook apparently took his own life with a shotgun blast about 5:30 p. m. Monday because he was despondent over his health.

They said that Otis Decker was found in the back yard of his Annandale Road home, the victim of a shotgun wound in the chest. His body was discovered by his 17-year-old daughter, Linda Decker. E. Allen Larkin, assistant medical examiner for Dutchess County, gave a verdict of suicide pending an inquest.

Troopers said Decker reportedly became despondent over the possibility that he had cancer, although he had been reassured by his doctor to the contrary. They said Decker took a 16-gauge shotgun, placed the barrel against his chest, and discharged the weapon. They said Decker died at the scene.

The incident was investigated by Investigator Richard Cobey of the BCI and Troopers David Baker and McPhail.

Dinoland Exhibit Seen on Barge Going Down River

Seven prehistoric monsters, life-size replicas in fiberglass composition, floated down the Hudson River on a 200-foot barge Monday on the way to the Dinoland exhibit of Sinclair Refining Company at next year's World's Fair in New York City.

Ulster County residents on the river viewed the primeval animals during the latter part of the afternoon.

The display included a 20-foot long walking fortress named Ankylosaurus; a 14-foot long ostrich mimic, Struthiomimus; the Triceratops, three-horned beast; Stegosaurus, 20 feet long with spiked tail; the Trachodon, 38 feet long duck-billed, web-footed dinosaur; Brontosaurus, 70-foot long thunder lizard, which is the symbol of Sinclair and Tyrannosaurus, the flesh-eating giant.

The replicas are the work of Louis Paul Jonas, a sculptor, who made them at Churchtown, near Hudson in Columbia County. Jonas and a crew of 16 worked more than two years on the $1 million contract. The creatures are made of molded fiberglass.

When they arrive in New York City, the behemoths will be set up at the fair site on Flushing Meadow to determine how they withstand the rigors of winter.

Canti Home Is Guttled by Fire

Fire early today gutted the home of John Canti on Hallahan's Road between Sawkill and Ruby.

Four fire companies battled the blaze, which threatened the dry brush in the wooded area surrounding the home. No injuries were reported.

Sawkill volunteers were summoned about 4:15 a. m. A short time later an alarm was put in for the West Hurley tanker and units from Mt. Marion-Ruby and Ulster Hose.

Fire officials said Canti arose early to attend special devotions at St. Catherine Labourer Church, Lake Katrine, and lit a space heater before he left. ## Dad Writes Letter To Police Asking Drivers Take Care

Police Chief Robert F. Murphy, as a means of emphasizing the need for all drivers to be watchful of children, today released the following open letter from a father:

"Today, my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue gloves. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is Coot, sat on the front porch and whined his canine disbelief in the need of education, as she waved goodbye and started off to the hall of learning.

"Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her—the girl with the yellow curls, and the boy across the aisle, who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head, and about the girl, who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things—tremendously vital—unimportant things—and then we studied spelling, reading, arithmetic—and then to bed. She's back there now, back in the nursery sound asleep with Princess Elizabeth (that's a doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you?"

"You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken, or her finger is cut, or when her head gets bumped, I can fix it, but when she starts to school, when she walks across the street, then she's in your hands. She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer, and darts like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time. I have to work to pay for her clothes and education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive slowly past the school intersections, and remember that children run from behind parked cars.

"Please don't run over my little girl."

Memorial

In loving memory of our mother Mae Finkle, who passed away 3 years ago today, October 15, 1960.

The rolling stream of time flows on
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of mother, who once sat there.
The flowers we lay upon your grave
May wither and decay,
But the love we have for you,
Will never fade away.

A loving mother, so true and kind,
No friend on earth like her we find;
For all of us she did her best,
May God grant her eternal rest.

Loving daughters
RUTH & ANNA MAE

Wreckage Probed To Learn Cause Of Copter Crash

NEW YORK (AP) — Investigators probed the wreckage of a twin-engine helicopter today seeking to determine why it crashed, killing all six aboard.

The 10-ton Boeing Vertol 107 had just lifted off Monday for a seven-minute flight from Idlewild Airport to the East River heliport at the foot of Wall Street in Manhattan when it exploded about 100 feet in the air.

Second Fatal Crash

It was only the second fatal crash in the history of scheduled helicopter flights in this country and the first in the 10 years that New York Airways has been shuttling passengers between metropolitan airports.

The line grounded all helicopters after the crash, pending determination of the cause.

Only three passengers and three crew members, including a stewardess, were aboard the ill-fated craft. It had a passenger capacity of 25.

Saw 'Ball of Fire'

"I heard a loud explosion—like a big truck backfire—and I turned around and all I saw was a ball of fire," said one employee who declined use of his name.

One of the two gas-turbine engines that rotate twin propellers became dislodged and hurled to the ground. The fuselage spiraled down slowly, burning on impact near the center of an American Airlines hangar.

The pilot was Capt. Frank L. Turco, of Thornwood, 42-year-old former Marine.

Other crew members were co-pilot Joseph Giambattista, 37, of Manhattan, a recent bridegroom, and Stewardess Marie Fourquet, 21, of Northport.

The passengers, tentatively identified from cards and baggage checks, were Marie Wild, of Parma, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb; George A. Longenberg of North Brook, Ill., and R. J. Stankovich of Manhattan.

Rochester Demos To Hear Talk by Morgenthau 19th

ROBERT M. MORGENTHAU

U. S. Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau will be guest speaker for a special meeting of the Town of Rochester Democratic Club on Sunday in the Hotel Grant, Accord.

An election rally will be conducted at 6 p. m.

Morgenthau, a native New Yorker, was appointed U. S. Attorney for the state's Southern District in April 1961 by President John F. Kennedy. His father was Secretary of the Treasury in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration.

Morgenthau was graduated magna cum laude from Amherst College in 1941 with the BA degree. He majored in political science, made Phi Beta Kappa, won a varsity letter on soccer, and edited the student newspaper.

After the war, he completed his studies at the Yale Law School in two years and joined the New York law firm of Patterson, Belknap and Webb. He was the Democratic nominee for New York State governor in 1962.

Morgenthau's quiet, scholarly manner contrasts pointedly with his record as a tough, successful prosecutor and with heroic feats in World War II.

The Town of Rochester Democratic Club has scheduled a second rally for Saturday, Nov. 2 at 8 p. m. in the Pine Grove Hotel near Herkonia, Angela Pellicone, president of the Rochester club, and Margaret Marshall, chairmen of the two programs, urge all Democrats to attend.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugars and selected issues showed considerable strength in a mixed stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Sugars were still responding to the effects of the hurricane that severely damaged Cuba's sugar crop and cut the potential world sugar supply.

Auto stocks were fairly sturdy in early trading but lapsed into irregularity. Steels were on the upside. Weekly steel production climbed to its highest level in nearly three months.

The industrials as a group showed a small plus on balance. Rails were irregularly lower.

The Dow Jones Industrial average at noon was up .18 at 742.02.

Dispositions Are Made in County Court on Monday

A number of criminal cases were disposed of Monday afternoon in County court before County Judge Raymond J. Mino. In several others pleas were accepted and new sentence will be imposed on November 4 at 2 p. m. to which time criminal matters were adjourned. Meanwhile a number of Youthful Offender cases will be disposed of at chambers.

George F. Miller entered a plea of guilty to second degree assault. Maurice Goldberg appeared for Miller. Judge Mino adjourned sentence until Nov. 4 at 2 p. m. to secure a pre-sentence probation report. Remanded to jail.

Three carnival workers who were charged with assaulting and robbing two young German student engineers who were in Kingston at the local IBM plant last July, were given 92 days in jail on a plea of guilty to third degree assault.

It was charged the three men attempted a fleeing attack on the two Germans who had been in the United States only a few days. They were interested in a card game at the Stuyvesant Motor Motel and later relieved of money and travelers checks at knife-point.

The three, Thomas Lee Oldham, 22, High Point, N. C.; Ervin M. Oldham, 24, High Point, N. C., and William J. Boatman, 36, of Macon, Ga., were arrested and indicted. Charles Gaffney appeared for the trio and on their plea of guilty to third degree assault they were given 92 days in jail and allowed credit for time served. There is a detainee in the sheriff's office for Boatman from North Carolina. He was remanded to jail pending transfer to North Carolina. The other two expressed a desire to get back home and re-join the carnival.

Samuel B. Wood Jr., against whom there were three indictments, entered a plea of guilty to third degree burglary, grand larceny in the second degree and unlawful entry under one indictment. This imposition of sentence was postponed until Nov. 4 at 2 p. m. and Wood was remanded to jail. Norman Kellar appeared for Wood and moved to dismiss the other two indictments. Decision reserved.

Given Clinton Term
Franklin Rose, who had entered a plea of guilty to forging his name to a Welfare check made out to his wife to purchase liquor, was given 1 1/2 to 3 years in Clinton State Prison at hard labor. He had served 75 days in jail and was given credit for the jail term. In imposing sentence Judge Mino said this was not Rose's first offense and while his counsel said he was a cook and could get a good job and support his family, Judge Mino said this had not been the case in the past. "I am not impressed with your past record," Judge Mino said in imposing the prison sentence. Marshall Lipton appeared by assignment for defendant.

Anxious About Wife
Edward Peter Brown Sr., 30, entered a plea of guilty to escape from Wallkill prison, waived the usual 48-hour waiting period and was sentenced to a term of from 2 to 4 years at hard labor in Clinton prison. A second indictment against Brown was dismissed. Bernard Feeney appeared for Brown, said Brown had been transferred to Wallkill Prison and had not heard from his wife after the transfer. He became anxious to contact her and had walked away from the Wallkill prison for that reason.

George Michael Leonard appeared for re-sentencing. A sentence pronounced in September was revoked and on his plea of guilty to unlawful entry a year in jail was imposed with credit being allowed for time served. G. Thomas Rea appeared for Leonard.

Several other cases were called and adjourned to Nov. 4 at 2 p. m. Several other cases involving Youthful Offender disposition were adjourned to a later date. Other cases were set down for jury trial in November.

25,000 Turn Out In Aberdeen for Quints' Birthday

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — It was wet and gray in Quint City USA—but the people turned out in droves to say "Happy Birthday" to the Fischer quintuplets.

An estimated 20,000 to 25,000 lined Aberdeen's main street Monday for a mile-long, hour and a half parade honoring Andrew Fischer, his wife, Mary Ann, and their newborn — four girls and a boy.

Six blocks from the noise and excitement of the biggest celebration ever staged in this farming community, the month-old quintuplets squirmed and kicked in their Isolettes at St. Luke's Hospital.

They had another weigh-in session and got measured for the first time.

Mary Ann, the smallest, weighed 3 pounds, 12 ounces and measured 16½ inches; Mary Magdalene weighed 4-10 and measured 17; Mary Catherine was 4-13 and 18½; Mary Margaret was 5-1 and 18½; and James Andrew 6-1 and 19 inches.

Three Are Chosen For Jury to Try 'Hired Killer'

HORNELL, N.Y. (AP) — Selection of jurors was underway today for the first-degree murder trial of Wesley E. Nash, 19, who allegedly was hired by a woman to kill her husband.

The first three jurors were chosen Monday in Steuben County Court.

Nash and Mrs. Stella Klymiuk, 35, had been named in a joint first-degree murder indictment. But an appellate court approved a request by Mrs. Klymiuk's attorney to have her trial shifted from Steuben County to Wayne County.

The court later rejected the Steuben County district attorney's bid to have the Nash trial moved to Wayne County as the youth and Mrs. Klymiuk could stand trial together.

Mrs. Klymiuk is accused of hiring Nash for $1,500 to shoot her husband, Jurko, 45. His body was found last Nov. 8 on his farm just north of Prattsville. Nash worked on the farm.

Monday night, priests of the Diocese of Ogdensburg chanted the Office of the Dead at St. Mary's Cathedral.

Bishop Smith, 58, died after suffering a heart attack.

Bishop Smith was installed May 13 as Bishop of Ogdensburg. Previously he had served as Auxiliary Bishop of Buffalo.

Today's requiem was the second offered for the bishop.

In Rome last Thursday, Bishop Navagh offered a Mass attended by nearly 500 prelates of the Roman Catholic Church. Three seminarians from the Ogdensburg diocese assisted. The seminarians, students at the North American College, were Leo J. Poissant and Clyde A. Lewis, both of Plattsburgh, and James S. Left of Ogdensburg.

WARM FRIENDSHIP HAS COOLED

Q: Will you please tell me how I can gracefully decline to be a wedding attendant? Under different circumstances I would be only too happy to accept. Until my girl friend met her fiancé we were inseparable and she always said that when she got married I was to be her maid of honor, and I have heard that she still intends to ask me.

However, I no longer consider her a friend and do not wish to accept. Since she started going out with this man she has completely ignored me. Every time I ask her to go somewhere with me or invite her to my house, she always has some excuse. Evidently my friendship meant very little to her and I feel very hurt at being cast aside like an old shoe. Will you please tell me what I can say without being rude?

A: The fact of her wanting you to be her maid of honor is proof of how much your friendship does mean to her and it would be very hurtful to her feelings to refuse to take part. I think you are failing to realize that the interests of an engaged girl are invariably concentrated on those of her fiancé, and the fact that she has little time to see you does not mean that her friendship for you has lessened.

To Show Her Appreciation

Q: I just recently had my first baby. Since my husband is a physician, the doctor who took care of me did not charge for his services. Would it be proper to give him a present in appreciation? If so, should it be something for him personally, or something for his office?

A: It would be entirely proper to give him a present which may be either something for him personally or for his office.

Cheek to Cheek Dancing

Q: I would like your opinion on cheek to cheek dancing. Is it in bad taste, or not? A group of us were discussing this at school the other day and some thought it perfectly all right and others said it was definitely not in good taste.

A: I agree with those who say cheek to cheek dancing is not in good taste.

We The Women Don't Be Too Practical

There is such a thing as a woman being too practical. A woman is too practical when:

She returns a bit of extravagant fluff her husband has given her for a birthday gift in order to get something she really needs.

She tries to influence her husband to keep a job he hates instead of trying something new because quitting the job involves some risk.

She never entertains people just because she wants to enjoy an evening with them, but confines her entertaining to "repaying obligations" and entertaining for business reasons.

She keeps on pinching pennies when it is no longer necessary and when her husband would much prefer for her to have the things he can well afford to provide.

She resents the money her husband spends on a hobby. She burdens herself with an accumulation of junk because whenever she is tempted to throw anything away she thinks, "I might be able to use it some day."

She decides that a dog or a wood-burning fireplace or a flower garden or something else that would make her house more of a home or give her husband and children pleasure is more trouble than it's worth.

She says, "Here, let me do it" because it is easier to do things for herself.

Dan Allen Announces List of KHS Seniors Receiving National Merit Commendation

Thirteen seniors at Kingston High School have been honored for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring. Each student who is endorsed by his school receives a formal Letter of Commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Dan H. Allen, school principal, has announced the commended students are: Lemuel Peter Boice, Lynne F. Charlton, Melvin Thomas Higgins, Marilyn E. Katatsky, Gary R. Kobran, Maria M. LaBelle, Stephanie Ann LeFever, Manes Schanzer, Larry C. Williams, all of Kingston.

Robert W. Katcher, Ulster Park; Frank Lancer, Esopus; Charlene L. Meyer, St. Remy; and Donna L. Pratt, Blooming-ton.

John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, stated:

"About 32,000 students throughout the country are being awarded Letters of Commendation in recognition of their outstanding performance on the qualifying test. Although they did not reach the status of Semifinalists in the current Merit Program, they are so capable that we wish to call attention in this way to their achievement and academic promise."

"The Semifinalists and Commended students together constitute about two per cent of all high school seniors. This certainly signifies noteworthy accomplishment by all of these bright youngsters."

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation gives recognition to two groups of students who achieve high scores on the NMSQT. The Semifinalist group is composed of the highest-scoring students in each state and in U. S. territories. Some Semifinalists take a second examination to establish further their eligibility to receive Merit Scholarships.

"We earnestly hope that the Commended students will continue their education," Mr. Stalnaker continued. "By doing so they will benefit both themselves and the nation."

"The Letters of Commendation provide tangible recognition of their high ability. We urge the students honored today to make every effort to attend college, and to develop to the fullest their promise of achievement."

To increase their opportunities to obtain financial assistance if they need it, the Merit Corporation sends the names, home addresses, and test scores of all Commended students to the two colleges they indicated as their preferred choices at the time they took the qualifying test. Other special services are also performed by NMSC in an effort to increase the scholarship opportunities of Commended students and Semifinalists.

The Commended students were among the high school juniors in approximately 16,500 schools who took the NMSQT last March. The test is a three-hour examination that covers five separate areas of educational development. It was the first step in the ninth annual Merit Program.

This year's program will conclude about April 3, 1964, with the naming of students who will receive four-year Merit Scholarships to the colleges of their choice.

The Commended students and the Semifinalists who do not win Merit Scholarships are considered for certain other scholarships that are offered through the facilities of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

The annual Merit Scholarship competition is open to all high schools in the United States and its territories.

There are more than 4,000 Merit Scholars currently enrolled in about 400 colleges and universities. Nearly 7,500 Merit Scholars have been appointed to date.

Scholarship awards are made from the resources of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation and through sponsoring business corporations, foundations, colleges, unions, trusts, professional associations, and individuals.

Theatre Party Is Planned Here by B'nai B'rith Women

Tickets are now on sale for the theatre party sponsored by B'nai B'rith Women and slated for Sunday, Oct. 27 at the Lyceum Theatre, Red Hook.

The film for the evening will be the adult French farce, "Three Fables of Love," starring Leslie Caron, Rossano Brazzi, Monica Vitti and others. Proceeds from the event, which is open to everyone, will go towards B'nai B'rith annual scholarship to a Kingston high school senior.

Tickets for this benefit may be obtained from any B'nai B'rith member or by contacting president Mrs. Irwin Gellen of Lake Katrine, or the co-chairmen for the party, Mrs. Ronald Wolfeld and Mrs. Harold Beller, both of Saugerties. Admissions purchased at the boxoffice the night of the show will also contribute to the benefit.

The film, a strictly adult comedy, is spiced with the wit and sophistication for which the French are famous. Manhattan movie critics named the effort, "The most refreshing movie gaiety in town." Others said, "For imagination, spice and trick climax, each episode is on a par with the others. Brisk, lively fun!"

Mrs. Irwin Gellen thanked Roy Olsen, owner-manager of the Lyceum Theatre, for his kind cooperation in aiding the theatre party.

Miss Sue Horsey Is Among 2,400 Cornell Frosh

Miss Sue Horsey of Woodstock was among the 2400 freshmen accepted by Cornell University and greeted on the Cornell University campus by the newly appointed president, Dr. James A. Perkins.

Miss Horsey, daughter of the well known Woodstock couple, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Horsey of Millstream Road, graduated from Ontario Central with Academic Honors in June. She was the first Ontario graduate to ever receive a National Merit Scholarship Award and the only one in Ulster County this year.

She was among 9700 applicants screened for admission by Cornell. Miss Horsey was also the recipient of a National Honor Society Certificate Merit and a Regents College Scholarship. She is enrolled in the College of Liberal Arts, with major courses in math and psychology.

Undergraduate education is at the top of President Perkins' agenda this year at Cornell, according to William R. Keast, vice president for Academic Affairs. The university administration was completely revamped over the summer and as a result of new appointments and reassignments, a new educational accent will prevail.

In an address to the parents of the Class of '67, Mr. Perkins traced the changes that have taken place in recent years and stressed the progress in education—notably, the trend toward increased graduate study. The seventh president pointed out that over 46 per cent of the Cornell students body now goes on to graduate study.

Dean of Students Stanley W. Davis told the 3000 people assembled in Barton Hall that education was a joint venture by students, faculty and parents, and he urged parents to keep abreast of university events. Dean of the Faculty Thomas W. Mackesey, recently appointed associate provost for planning, emphasized the informal university motto of freedom and responsibility, stressing the fact that the university should not attempt to act "in loco parentis."

DO YOU TAKE VITAMINS AND STILL FEEL TIRED?*

If you take vitamins, yet still feel tired—you may need more than vitamins to restore your normal strength and energy. Check with your doctor. He may tell you that your worn-out feeling can be due to a shortage of iron.

Vitamins alone can't build up iron-poor blood. But GERITOL can! That's because GERITOL not only contains 7 vitamins but, in addition, supplies the amount of iron needed to build iron-rich red blood. Just 2 GERITOL tablets, or 2 tablespoons of GERITOL liquid, contain twice the iron in a pound of calves' liver! Seven times the iron in a pound of spinach! It is this rich source of iron, that makes GERITOL such an effective strength-building tonic. In only one day, GERITOL-iron is in your bloodstream carrying strength and energy to every part of your body!

Proved By Medical Tests!

Patients diagnosed with iron-deficiency anemia frequently were pale, nervous, irritable and easily tired. After patients took GERITOL daily, doctors reported definite clinical improvement. Remember, vitamins alone can't do it! But GERITOL, with its rich source of iron, can help you regain your strength and energy.

Jackie Shows No Alarm Despite Border Fighting

MARRAKECH, Morocco (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy plans to continue her vacation visit to Morocco despite Algerian-Moroccan border fighting 300 miles away.

The First Lady is aware of the conflict on the other side of the Atlas Mountains but is not alarmed, U.S. Ambassador John H. Ferguson said.

He said there is no plan to cut short Mrs. Kennedy's stay in King Hassan II's summer capital. He indicated she would leave Wednesday or Thursday for Washington, ending her Mediterranean holiday.

They're Used to Yelling

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highway innerbelt construction noise nearby has made use of a loudspeaker system necessary in three county common pleas courtrooms, the presiding judge, Joseph J. Harter, says. In discussing the matter with county commissioners, the judge suggested microphones, for witness chairs only. Witnesses often cannot be heard, he explained, but he said he felt attorneys and judges would talk loud enough.

London time is five hours later than U.E. Eastern Standard Time.

One Rent Control Going

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—Hilo, the southernmost city in the nation, and New York, the largest, will sever an odd tie shortly. Before the year end, Hilo intends to repeal its rent control ordinance, leaving New York as the only city in the country with a mandatory rent ceiling. Hawaii County's board of supervisors will keep a watchful eye on landlords, however. In the event of general large increases, the wartime measure will immediately be reinstated, the board said.

Call Duty-Free Canadian Bread Threat to Jobs

UTICA, N.Y. (AP)—The southward flow of duty-free Canadian bread poses a threat to the jobs of 10,000 Upstate New York bakers, a bakers' union contends.

The New York-New Jersey Council of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers of America called Monday for a federal tariff on bread imported from Canada or a reciprocal agreement that would wipe out Canada's 7 1/2 per cent levy on bread produced in the United States.

Canadian producers can undersell local products in the United States because of a lack of a tariff, Daniel J. Motto said.

He commented in a statement after what he described as an emergency meeting of the council.

The imports from Canada have grown from 60,000 pounds a year in 1957 to 1,272,000 pounds in 1962, Motto said.

Several Rulings Due by Courts On Muslim Rights

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—State courts must make several rulings before any decision on whether five black Muslims were denied the right to practice their religion in prison, a federal judge says.

The courts must decide whether the black Muslims, inmates at Attica State Prison, should be allowed to conduct special religious services, Judge John O. Henderson said Monday.

In addition, he said, the courts must rule on whether the prisoners could be visited by black Muslims ministers and receive black Muslim literature. Henderson refused to rule on whether the black Muslims were being denied the right to practice their religion. The inmates asked a year ago at their trial that Henderson rule they were being deprived of their religious privileges.

The judge said Monday that the black Muslim sect, a Negro nationalist group, was a religion, although not orthodox Islam.

Paul D. McGinnis, state correction commissioner, has contended that the sect is a "hate organization and not a bona-fide religion."

Henderson also held that solitary confinement and loss of good-time credit invoked on the black Muslims resulted from disobeying prison orders and not as a reprisal for their religious beliefs.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bobby Vinton has a problem all of us should have—learning how to spend money.

"It's a habit," he explains. "I walk past a store window and see a beautiful suit and say, 'Gee, I wish I could buy that.' Then I stop and realize that I can."

"It was the same way when I bought a car."

Why should a fellow named Bobby Vinton be teaching himself how to spend?

Because the handsome lad from Cannonsburg, Pa., who once considered coal mining as a profession, is now tops in the pop music field. His single, "Blue Velvet," remains No. 1 among record sellers, following his other sensation, "Roses are Red."

His income tells the story of his success. Two years ago, it was $6,000. In 1963 it will exceed $250,000.

Bobby is no musical illiterate. Like many singers who flash and fade. He was graduated from Duquesne University at 20 with a degree in music and the goal of becoming first oboist with the Pittsburgh Symphony.

That ambition vanished as he found success with dance bands in the Pittsburgh area. He eschewed rock 'n' roll for society-type music and warmed the hearts of adults, but not youngsters.

"I couldn't sing," said he. "But I knew I could sing better than some of them."

He tried it, in a smooth style, with some modern touches. He also made some recordings for Epic in New York.

Bobby is of Polish descent and hails from the same Pittsburgh suburb that spawned Perry Como.

Bobby now plays one-nighters all over the country and recently finished his first film, "Surf Party." His problem is convincing adults that he is an entertainer, not just a teen-age sound. (He's 24).

Rare Burial Mound

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—A retired steel worker who is an amateur archaeologist has uncovered what may be one of the most unusual Indian mounds ever found in this southeast Ohio area. "It's quite unusual to find two skeletons buried side-by-side," says Ernest R. Sutton. "Even more rare is that the man's bones (the other is believed to be a woman) were buried in a stone tomb." Sutton thinks the male, buried on his side and surrounded by shells, may have been a chief and the woman his wife. Earlier other remains were found above them, lying practically parallel, with the heads in reverse position.

Report on Army Race Situation May Rake Guard

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential committee set up to act against racial discrimination in the armed services is shaping its final report and National Guard sources say they expect the guard to be "raked over the coals."

There are reports — denied by committee officials — that the group may recommend — with holding funds from any state which refuses to end segregation in its guard units.

If this happens, the much-buffed President's Committee on Equal Opportunity in the Armed Forces likely will suffer new hammering from Southern members of Congress and Dixie governors.

Segregated in South

The guard is segregated in most of the states of the old Confederacy.

The presidential committee, headed by Washington lawyer Gerhard A. Gesell, submitted an initial report June 13 recommending many measures to eliminate discrimination against Negro servicemen in areas around military bases.

The seven-man committee told Kennedy bias in the reserve and National Guard had been under intensive study. It promised that a follow-up report on this problem would be completed soon.

Sources close to National Guard affairs said they understood that report was expected by Sept. 1. Some sources suggested the White House might have passed the word to hold up the politically touchy document and perhaps tone it down.

Repeated attempts to reach Gesell were fruitless. An aide in his law office told a reporter Gesell "does not grant interviews."

An official connected with the presidential committee denied the group had been pointing toward Sept. 1. He said the members hoped to have the report ready by the end of the year.

May Be Held Up

This official said the committee had not reached a consensus. This could indicate a split on how severely to deal with the guard in the final recommendations.

In its June 13 recommendations covering the regular services the committee called for much more stringent measures than Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara finally ordered.

Among other things, McNamara rejected a proposal that if all efforts at persuasion should fail the services should consider closing bases "near communities where discrimination is particularly prevalent."

Nonetheless, McNamara has drawn heavy fire from Southern senators and House members for actions taken to carry out an equal opportunity program he ordered July 26 after considering the Gesell report.

State governors are jealous of their rights and prerogatives in controlling the National Guard within their states. The Defense Department recognizes the guard as "an organization of volunteers under the command of the respective governors."

Glancing Over TV Bill of Fare

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—When the average filmed television series makes its network debut at the beginning of the season, there usually are from 6 to 26 completed episodes ready for broadcasting.

In the case of one established hit, "Hazel," the crew and cast worked through last spring and early summer on the fall product. With this head start the show took a long summer holiday that ended only two weeks ago.

But in the case of the new programs, this practice of storing up episodes so far in advance is dangerous and, in some cases, fatal. The backlog, produced at vast cost, prohibits changes and shifts of emphasis that might turn failure into a passable success, even a hit.

When plans were announced for CBS' new "Judy Garland show," the network hoped to have 13 shows completed before the variety hour had its premiere.

Because of a shift of producers resulting in a month's suspension of tapings, there were only five, and maybe it was a lucky break.

With a flexibility rare indeed in television, network executives recently pulled one show from its schedule and substituted another, made only two days before. They decided that it was a better show. And it was.

Usually, however, a series must go its pre-determined course. Story lines, formats and concepts—even players—are chosen by a handful of "experts" months, sometimes years before the public finally passes judgment. And too many times those experts goof. For each smart, timely guess—like "Ben Casey" and Vince Edwards or "Beverly Hillsbillies"—there are two or more shows that never get off their launching pads. There are the usual number this season.

CBS' "Town Meeting of the World" which this morning was to bring together live-by-Telstar churchmen from Rome, London and Princeton, N.J., will be rebroadcast on the network Wednesday in the 7:30-8:30 p.m. EDT spot. That means that the scheduled "CBS Reports" on "The Great American Funeral" has been postponed until Oct. 23.

NBC's "Espionage" on Oct. 23 has a timely subject: a security leak in a British ministry. . . NBC plans to adapt Britain's "That Was the Week That Was," a satiric treatment of the news, to a weekly series for Americans next season—and will give a preview on Nov. 10 in its "Show of the Week" spot. . . The annual Christmas night broadcast of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" will be an all new NBC production this season. Recommended tonight: "Mr. Novak," NBC, 7:30-8:30 (ET) —cheating is the theme: "The Garry Moore Show," CBS, 10-11 —with Dorothy Loudon, Roy Castle and Brock Peters.

Real Big Business*Tobacco Sales Are Increasing, Also No Smoking DrugsBy JACK LEFLER
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A new industry has emerged with the aim of helping smokers quit smoking.

With some medical authorities linking smoking with cancer and other diseases, the urge to quit smoking has grown. But paradoxically, the sale of cigarettes has increased, too.

The smoker who wants to give up the habit can find an increasing number of aids in book and drug stores, where sales of anti-smoking products have grown into a big business.

Book stores stock such volumes as "The Painless Way to Stop Smoking," "The Consumers Union Report on Smoking and the Public Interest" and "Smoking and Health."

Drug stores sell such items to help stop smoking as "Nikoban," manufactured by M. R. Thompson &amp; Co., Crawford, N. J.; "Ban-Smoke," chewing gum, Thompson Medical Co. Inc., New York; "Bantron," Compagnia, Corp., Batavia, Ill., and "No-bacco," Approved Pharmaceutical Corp., Syracuse, N.Y.

Tobacco manufacturers report that sales of cigars and pipe tobacco are increasing. Some medical sources hold that smoking cigars and pipes is not as harmful as cigarettes.

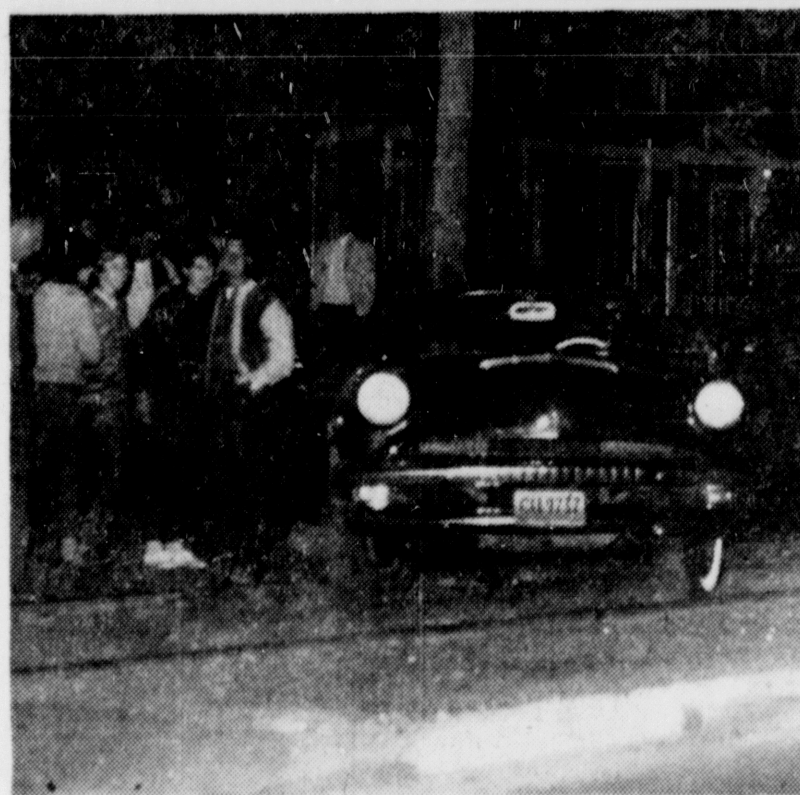

The vending machine industry is acting to make its wares less available to minors. The machines are being moved from locations easily accessible to youngsters.

Cigarette advertising is being specifically aimed at adults. Tobacco ads have been withdrawn from college publications.

In Buffalo, N.Y., one of the nation's leading cancer research centers, Roswell Park Memorial Institute, is experimenting with a tobaccoless cigarette.

Part of this research will delve into the role, if any, of nicotine in the smoking habit.

The institute recently started an experimental clinic for people who want to quit smoking. The smokers will be given drugs over several months.

Riggins told officers Ira Hadsel and Curtis VanDemark, who investigated, that he was forced to swerve off the road to avoid another vehicle headed toward him. The mishap was reported at 1:45 a. m.

North's two heart bid was ambitious and his three no-trump call really suicidal. He had no reason to suppose that his partner would be able to make game and every reason to feel that he was already too high at two no-trump.

Fortunately for North everything turned out roses because West managed to misdefend the hand to the limit.

As John Brown points out, he guarded the child so carefully that eventually it died of anemia.

South won the jack of spades opening with the queen and led a heart to dummy's king. His next play was a low club to his jack whereupon he cashed his ace and dummy's king of clubs. West had to make a discard and he started his campaign to help South by letting the six of diamonds go.

South led dummy's three of diamonds and played low from his own hand. West was in with the queen and a simple play to set the hand two tricks would be to play ace and another spade. The queen of hearts lead would have been even more effective and could have led to a three trick set, but West wasn't going to try any of those winning plays.

He went into a long huddle and eventually came up with the one losing play at his disposal. He led with his low heart!

South won in dummy, played a low diamond and ducked. West took his ace, cashed his queen of hearts and finally had to lead a spade. This let South in to make his remaining diamonds. You'll learn how to make things happen with your copy of

The case of the Swiss chalet is just one more reason why United States foreign aid administrators don't last long at their jobs. The chalet was a particularly attractive, but very high-priced home in the U. S. mission to Geneva was seeking for its expanding operation. After several months of bargaining, the U. S. gave up. The price, it was felt, was simply too steep. But within a few weeks after negotiations broke off, India's mission to Switzerland moved into the expensive chalet. Foreign aid officials noted that the deal was closed only days after India signed a new foreign aid agreement with the U. S. for several hundred million dollars.

Injuries to Key Performers Keeps 49ers Winless So Far

BY ED PALLADINO
Freeman Sports Staff

"The only thing we can do is to go out there and do our best. Our spirit is good and we feel that the breaks will start falling our way." With those words, Monty Sticks described the early season miseries of the San Francisco 49ers, who have lost their first five games and are getting ready to face the unbeaten Chicago Bears this Sunday on the West Coast.

We spent the weekend with the former Poughkeepsie High basketball and football star. He and his teammates played in Baltimore on Sunday and were beaten, 20-3, by the Colts. To make matters worse, the ex-Notre Dame All-American had one of his worst days since he became a professional four years ago.

A Rough Afternoon

"It was a day I should have stayed in bed," is the way Sticks explains it. He had trouble getting free on his pass patterns in the first half and spent the third and fourth periods of the game on the bench. It marked the first time since his freshman season in the NFL that Sticks, considered one of the best tight ends in the league, has been taken out of the offensive line.

Gary Knofel, a 10-year veteran and the second string tight end for San Francisco, caught four passes in the half he was in action. In the 49er dressing room after the game, Monty lavished praise on the veteran. "He did a real good job," he stated.

Many Stars Hurt

In talking about the dismal plight of San Francisco, Sticks cited injuries to the key personnel as the big reason the club has failed to jell.

Bill Kilmer, the offensive star in the backfield, broke his leg in an automobile accident during the off-season and will not be available this year. John Brodie, the first string quarterback, is out with a broken arm.

Then there is Mike Lind, the rookie fullback drafted from Notre Dame. He's been injured and hasn't played to date. The list goes on and on. Mike Magac, called by Sticks one of the best linemen on the club, is another casualty. Big Leo Nomellini and Bob St. Clair, two of the veterans, have been hurt, as has split end Clyde Connor.

"It's just been one injury after another," Monty explained. In fact, despite the fact he couldn't lift either arm above his head, Don Coichico, the defensive ace of the club, saw action Sunday. The reserves are no more because they've been forced to play as regulars.

Quarterback Problem

There is no doubt that Brodie and Kilmer sidelined the 49ers have a quarterback problem. It's so acute they were forced to sign Lamar McHan. He played in the shadow of John Unitas in Baltimore for several seasons. Bob Waters, a defensive specialist, has been serving as first string quarterback.

Discussing himself, Sticks said his left leg, which he injured in the first exhibition game, was coming along rapidly. "I missed three exhibition games but have been playing since the regular season started," he added.

Sticks didn't have much to say about the resignation of Red Hickey, Hickey drafted Monty as his top choice and he coached the club until two weeks ago.

Has Players' Respect

The big boy said that Jack Christiansen has the confidence and respect of all the players. We'll start winning for him. If we can stay healthy for a few games, the shoe will be on the other foot," Monty added.

During his previous three seasons with the 49ers, the club finished third one year and in the middle of the standings the other two. His three year record shows 87 passes caught for 1412 yards and eight touchdowns.

Will he play fullback in the near future? "Of course, I'll play wherever they want me, but it's easier to get tackled by a safetyman than by two or three 260-pound monsters," he said.

Monty is looking forward to the Nov. 17 meeting against the Giants at Yankee Stadium. Aside from visits to his home, Sticks hasn't been in this area since graduating from college. It will mark his first game at the Stadium.

Before coming to the big city, the 49ers have to meet Chicago, Los Angeles, Detroit and Dallas.

California Football Player Has 80 Acre Farm, Big Family

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Charles Johnson is a 27-year-old college freshman football player with a wife and 12 kids to cheer him on.

He also has an 80-acre farm with pigs, cows, sheep and a horse.

Chuck is a new student at American River Junior College near Sacramento, — the first step in his long-delayed goal of becoming a school teacher.

He's a starting defensive tackle on the Beavers' football team manned, for the most part, by boys up to nine years his junior.

"They call me pappy," says the 5-9, 234-pound Johnson. "But the only time my age really bothers me is when we have to do the long distance runs. That's the only time I lag behind."

Chuck and his wife, Tania, 27, were married when they were 15. They have six children of their own: Judith, 10; Sue, 7; Connie, 5; Stanley, 4; Steven, 3; and Carney, a seven-month old boy.

Six other youngsters live with them, teen-age boys released to their custody from the county juvenile hall.

The boys live at the ranch on the outskirts of Sacramento. The Johnsons like youngsters and think the farm makes a good home for them.

Johnson got out of the Army at 18, pumped gasoline at a service station for five years, sold insurance for a year and then returned home to take over the family ranch when his father died.

"I've been trying to go back to school for nine years," he said. "What really fired me up was when my church, the Church of Christ, started talking about opening a Christian school in Sacramento. I want to be a teacher."

To get teaching credentials, he is up before 6 a.m. along with the others for breakfast and chores.

He is at school at 7 a.m. to do homework and attend classes until 11 a.m. Then it's back to the ranch to work.

At 3 p.m. Johnson returns to school for three hours of football practice.

One night a week, he attends class and on other evenings, does church work.

With all that, why football? He likes sports. And, if he works hard, Johnson thinks he might have a chance for an athletic scholarship to help play for his education at a four-year college.

The win was the fifth straight for Coach Al Miller's unbeaten Hawks, who are scheduled to travel to East Stroudsburg Teachers Wednesday.

Eugene Ventriglia's goal at 13:42 of the fourth period cinched the victory for the county booters who relied on a tight defense and brisk passing game.

Goals by Joseph Faccioli (21 minutes, first period) and Richard Lotze (1:41 second) enabled the Hawks to gain a 2-2 tie at the half. Pick scored for Adelphi at 7:43 of the first period to put the home club ahead, 1-0. Dodos' goal at 8:03 of the second session gave Adelphi a 2-1 lead. Goalie Tom Clarke of Middletown, N. Kilmer May Play Within 4 Weeks
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Halfback Bill Kilmer, recovering far faster than anticipated from a compound leg fracture and subsequent infection, may be playing for the San Francisco 49ers in four weeks.

Kilmer, a former UCLA star and No. 1 San Francisco draft pick in 1961, sped off a San Francisco Peninsula Freeway last Dec. 6 and wound up in a marsh of muddy water, his right leg broken and his car wrecked.

He lay on his back for three months in a San Francisco hospital while the leg mended and physicians treated an infection picked up from the water. Some thought it would be pretty tough for him ever to play football again.

He chinned himself in his hospital bed, then began a therapy routine after his discharge. Today he planned his first workout of the season with the 49ers. Running, exercising and therapy will be Kilmer's program for four weeks.

Then doctors will take X rays of his leg and decide if he can play this year or should wait until 1964.

This is a "young" Wake Forest team, one which lists only seven seniors on the roster. Hildebrand, optimistic about the Deacons' chances, is basing everything on the premise that last year's sophomores won't make the same mistakes again.

Army has two more home games on tap following the Wake Forest invasion. The Cadets will host Washington State on Saturday, October 26, then complete the home schedule with Utah on Saturday, November 9. Tickets for both games are now available at the Army Athletic Association office in the gymnasium.

Buffalo, N.Y. (AP)—Jim McNally, a first-string tackle on the Buffalo Football team may miss Saturday's game with Boston University here because of an ankle injury suffered in last Saturday's 10-8 loss to Marshall.

Tennessee, Georgia Tech Stage Football Controversy

By MIKE BARRON
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — Tennessee Athletic Director Bob Woodruff calls it a "sleeper" play. Georgia Tech Athletic Director Bobby Dodd says Tennessee's defense just went to sleep.

Charges and counter-charges are flying in what is developing into the Southeastern Conference's biggest football controversy since the famous Paul Bryant - Wally Butts telephone call.

The object of the furor is a 54-yard touchdown pass play in Georgia Tech's 23-7 victory over Tennessee in Knoxville last Saturday.

The play came about in this manner. Tech end Ted Davis did not return to the huddle after a pass from quarterback Billy Lotheridge fell incomplete. The Tennessee defense did not notice him and on the next play he was alone to receive Lotheridge's pass for a touchdown to put Tech ahead 13-0 just 25 seconds before the first half ended.

Filed Protest

On Sunday Woodruff filed an official protest with Southeastern Conference Commissioner Bernie Moore, charging that Georgia Tech deliberately violated the rules which required a player to return to within 15 yards of the ball after a play.

Woodruff said the complaint was "our responsibility" when rules or ethics are violated without the officials on the field taking action.

Jim McDonald, Tennessee head coach, charged that the play not only violated a rule but violated a "gentlemen's agreement" among SEC coaches not to use a "layout man" or "sleeper" to confuse opponents. Dodd got his dander up when he read about the protest. Calling Woodruff "the worst public relations man in the football profession," he charged that Tennessee was trying to ease the sting of defeat and take away from Tech's victory. He emphatically denied that Tech uses a "sleeper" play. "I wonder if Woodruff has realized we could give him the touchdown he calls 'unethical' and give him one more, and still have beaten his Tennessee Vols 10-7," Dodd said. Tennessee is Dodd's alma mater.

The Tech coach pointed out that one official was near the play and saw Davis line up for the pass. "It was his judgment that Davis had come back to within 15 yards of the scrimmage line," Dodd said.

Ski Facilities Are Expanded In Adirondack Mountain Area

Ski centers in the Adirondack high peak area will open the season with expanded and improved plants, reports the New York State Commerce Department.

Most extensive improvements are those reported for Paleface Mountain, at Jay. The center has added a 1200-foot open slope with a 150-foot vertical drop and five more trails. The center now has twenty-three trails varying from a half-mile to two miles. Total vertical drop is 818 feet.

Paleface has installed a new T-bar to serve the expanded trails, making two T-bars and a double-chair lift for the area.

Whiteface Mountain, the state-owned center, between Wilmington and Lake Placid, has opened three more trails for a total of seventeen. These and a slope in the beginners' area are served by two double-chair lifts, a T-bar and a J-bar. The center has a large chalet at the base with another at the midway station of the chair lift.

Mount Pisgah, at Saranac Lake, has groomed its fifteen acres of slopes and two mile-long trails. Transportation is by a T-bar lift and tow. In addition to daily operation, Mount Pisgah will operate nights Tuesday through Saturday.

Moon Valley, six miles south of Malone, the northernmost ski center in the Empire State will open this season on a Wednesday through Sunday schedule. Three open slopes, 1000 to 3600 feet long, and four trails 3200 to 4600 feet, are served by a double-chair lift and T-bar.

Four in Lake Placid

Four ski centers will be open to the public in the Lake Placid vicinity. Fawn Ridge, in the village, has three slopes, each 1200 feet with 200-foot drop, served by a Poma lift and two tows. Scotts Cobble, on Route 73, three miles south of the village, has a 1500-foot slope and two trails served by a Poma lift. The slopes of Alpine Ski Lodge on Route 86, west of the village, and Mirror Lake Inn, inside the village, are available for public use. Both hotels have open slope skiing with uphill transportation by tow.

Big Tupper Ski Center, off Route 30, three miles south of Tupper Lake Village will operate the double-chair lift and T-bar areas daily, and there will be skiing at the T-bar areas Monday, Wednesday and Friday. The chair serves four three-quarter-mile trails and the T-bar serves three others, plus mile-long Ranger Trail. From the head of the center's 3050-foot double-chair, skiers see one of the Adirondack's most breathtaking winter panoramas—the frozen beauty of island-dotted Big Tupper Lake. There are round-trip tickets for visitors who wish to take the ride just for the view.

The St. Lawrence University Snow Bowl at South Colton will be open for public skiing, including a children's area and 20, 40 and 60 meter jumps. Two slopes and two trails are served by a T-bar. The center also has marked a 5 kilometer cross-country trail.

Adirondack ski centers are included in a free directory, SKI NEW YORK, issued by the New York State Department of Commerce, 112 State Street, Albany 7, N. Y.

Hopkins Wins At Cobleskill

Competing against 108 runners from Guiderland, Johnstown, Illion, Herkimer, New Hartford, Mohonsen and Christian Brothers Academy, the Onteora ace won by about 40 seconds, completing the 2½ mile course in 12:27.

Oklahoma Drops Star Halfback

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — The University of Oklahoma football team became the object of nationwide surprise for the second time in three days Monday when star halfback Joe Don Looney was dropped from the squad for disciplinary reasons.

The first surprise came Saturday, when the Sooners, then rated No. 1, were soundly outplayed by Texas and defeated 28-7.

Coach Bud Wilkinson declined to comment on the incident. He would not say if the loss to Texas had anything to do with the dismissal of the 224-pound speedster from Fort Worth, Tex.

But Looney's father, Don Looney, a star end for Texas Christian in the late 1930s, told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram that Wilkinson telephoned him to say:

"I am sorry it happened. He had lots of ability, but he had some bad practices last week, and we decided that this cost us the ball game."

Looney's father said his son had a sore foot last week which hampered him in practice. The elder Looney told the Star-Telegram that Wilkinson said the OU senior football players had taken a vote and decided they could do better without his son.

A newsman was told by OU end John Flynn, Looney's roommate, that the big senior had moved out of the dormitory and headed for a relative's home in Kansas.

Rumors had persisted for some time that such a move was brewing. Looney reportedly was the object of some displeasure from the coaching staff when he skipped spring training to try out for the track team.

Dick Ellsworth Comeback Pick

CHICAGO (AP) — Young Dick Ellsworth, voted the National League's comeback baseball player-of-the-year in the annual Associated Press Poll, is happy to get the award but never wants to win it again.

"No thanks," said Ellsworth who compiled a 22-10 record with the Chicago Cubs in 1963 after a horrible 9-20 mark in 1962. "If you have to lose 20 games one year and then come back and win 20 the next, I don't want it anymore."

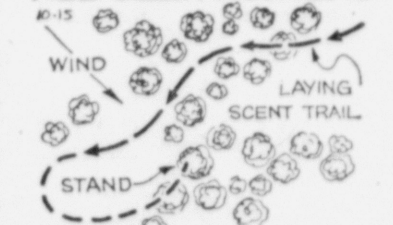

The 22-year-old left-hander credits the development of a slider for his season, which included a 2.10 earned run average with 75 walks and 185 strikeouts in 290 2-3 innings.

Ellsworth collected 24 votes in the balloting by 68 baseball writers and finished far ahead of Curt Simmons of St. Louis, another southpaw.

Simmons picked up 11 votes. St. Louis shortstop Dick Groat was third with 10, and Ron Santo, the Chicago Cubs' third baseman, received 9.

Longhorns Rated No. 1 In AP Poll

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Texas Longhorns, who've worked their way up step by step, took over the No. 1 spot today in The Associated Press poll of the nation's college football teams, leading a wholesale shuffling resulting from last weekend's stunning upsets.

The Longhorns finally climbed into the top spot by knocking off Oklahoma 28-7 Saturday. The Sooners had been rated the No. 1 team in the country going into the game.

Texas, rated No. 5 in the pre-season balloting topped by 1962 national champion Southern California, made the top after moving a step at a time up the ladder. The Longhorns were fourth in the first regular poll, third in the next, and second a week ago. Oklahoma, leader for the past two weeks, slid to No. 6.

The special panel of sports writers and broadcasters gave Texas 51 of 55 first place votes, after wading through the weekend wreckage that showed defeat for five of the teams in last week's Top Ten.

Besides Texas, the only other winner among the elite was Wisconsin, which beat Purdue 38-20 and jumped from fifth to second. Wisconsin got the four first place votes that didn't go to Texas.

Pitt Advances
Pitt advanced from sixth to third while Mississippi jumped from 10th to fifth. Both were idle Saturday.

In addition to the defeat of the Sooners, Alabama was upset by Florida, 10-6; Southern Methodist bumped Navy, 22-28; Southern California was beaten 17-14 by Notre Dame; and Penn State was downed by Army, 10-7. Ohio State was tied by Illinois, 20-20.

Southern California, which led the first week but then was beaten by Oklahoma, dropped clear out of the Top Ten. The Trojans were No. 7 last week. Penn State, ninth a week ago, also dropped out.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and total points on the 10-9-8-etc. basis:

Team	Points
1. Texas (51) .....	546
2. Wisconsin (4) .....	487
3. Pittsburgh .....	413
4. Ohio State .....	298
5. Mississippi .....	218
6. Oklahoma .....	191
7. Illinois .....	147
8. Georgia Tech .....	146
9. Alabama .....	145
10. Tie, Navy and Northwestern .....	103

Tare Test

HAMILTON, N. Y. (AP)—Defense against the rarely used single-wing attack is the Colgate University football team's most pressing problem this week.

The Red Raiders play Princeton Saturday and the New Jersey team raises the single wing with an emphasis on the ball-carrying abilities of fullback Cosmo Iacacazzi.

Colgate worked on a defense to stop Iacacazzi in Monday's practice.

KWBA Sweeper Runs This Week

The annual Kingston Woman's Bowling Association Sweepstakes opened on Oct. 13 and will continue through Oct. 19. It is an 80 percent handicap affair off a scratch 200, with averages as of the date of bowling.

There is not extra bowling as league scores are used. Guaranteed first prize is $25.00 and second place, $15.00. There will be one prize awarded for every ten entries.

Entry in the sweepstakes automatically makes the bowler a member of the KWBA Cheer and Sympathy Fund. The fund is used to extend cheer to KWBA members who are ill; to extend sympathy to KWBA members in case of death in their immediate families and for donations to charity from the association. The sweepstakes is open to all KWBA members who may participate as many times as leagues they bowl in.

Sacramento Girl Plans to Tackle English Channel

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A teenage Sacramento girl, the youngest person to swim the chilly 25-mile length of Lake Tahoe, has set her sights on the English Channel and she's confident she'll swim it next year.

Leonore Modell, 13-year-old eighth grader, swam the cold, Sierra Mountain lake in 14 hours, 34 minutes last week despite winds strong enough to whip up whitecaps.

Her coach, Paul Herron of the Sacramento YMCA, said her time is a Tahoe record. Few have swum the length of the lake, and the best previous time Herron remembers was "about 17½ hours" by a man.

Leonore will be 14 next August when Herron plans to take her to France to practice for her channel attempt early in September.

"My goal is to swim the channel," she said. "I don't know beyond that. I'd like to try to break records in different countries around the world, I guess."

Born and raised in Sacramento, her father George, a carpenter, taught her how to swim when she was five.

Chargers' Paul Lowe

Is Top AFL Gainer

NEW YORK (AP) — Paul Lowe, the fleet halfback of the San Diego Chargers, is out to prove that he does not have to rank behind either Billy Cannon or Abner Haynes when it comes to totting that ball.

The latest American Football League statistics show Lowe out front in the rushing department with 396 yards on 53 carries, an awesome average of 7.4 yards per effort.

Although the Oakland Raiders are on a losing streak, Art Powell still led the pass receivers with 37 for 606 yards.

Restaurateurs Plan Halloween Jamboree Oct. 28

Ulster County Hotel and Restaurant Liquor Dealers Association, Inc., will hold the 14th annual fall outing October 28 in the form of a Halloween jamboree, it was announced today by Louis Barone, president of the association.

The annual autumn event will be held at the new Pantony's Restaurant on Route 299, New Paltz-Highland Road at New Paltz. The outing will include an indoor steak bake with food served from 12:30 to 3 p. m. and the charcoal barbecued, sliced sirloin steak will be served at 4 p. m.

Dancing and entertainment will follow at 6 p. m.

Barone said that previously the association held an annual clam bake in early September, "but this year we have scheduled, instead, a Halloween jamboree, which we feel will prove tremendously successful and highly popular among the licensees."

Frederick D. Schryver of Kingston is chairman. Schryver said reservations will close Friday, Oct. 25.

Model Home Fire Is Being Probed

Fire in a model home at Windemere Heights housing development at Cherry Lane, Saugerties, early Sunday afternoon is under investigation by Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone.

The fire was discovered by a Mrs. Aldridge, who resides across the street, when she went to open the home Sunday afternoon for inspection, Mayone reported. The house was filled with dense smoke and indicated the fire had been under way for some time. It was located in a basement bedroom bed, Mayone said.

When the home was closed at 7 p. m. Saturday by Edward Noonan, general manager of the project, there was no sign of fire.

Royal Family
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When pretty Carolyn Jelley of Sidney, Ohio, was named Angus Queen at the State Fair, she succeeded someone she knows pretty well—her sister Kathleen. And who did Kathleen, succeed last year? Herself. She has been Angus Queen the past two years.

Saugerties firemen were summoned first but the house is located in the Glasco District and Mayone said, when Glasco firemen arrived at the scene under Chief Charles Cafaldo, the back door was found unlocked. It had been locked the previous night by Noonan. Mayone said the fire had been smoldering in the bed for some time and there was extensive smoke damage throughout the house. The bed in which the fire apparently started was destroyed.

Womens Voters Group Hears Talk On Police Force

Robert Moser, village police commissioner, was the guest speaker at the October meeting of Saugerties Provisional League of Women Voters held last week. Commissioner Moser presented an interesting discussion of the history of the police department in Saugerties and the duties, salaries and benefits of the officers. He explained that the department operates on a budget drawn up by the Village Board, that a full complement of officers would consist of one chief, two sergeants and four patrolmen, and that the department is in the process of completing a new rules and regulations booklet for the police force. Work on this booklet was started by the last administration.

This month's program was presented by the Know Your Town committee which has recently published and soon will distribute a map of the election districts of Saugerties.

Commissioner Moser was preceded on the program by Mrs. William Zeigler who gave a detailed and informative talk of the history of water in Saugerties. Mrs. Robert LaChance, a member of the voters service committee, showed those present a chart of the candidates for the town offices to be filled this year. The chart also described the terms, present salaries and duties of these officials.

Mrs. Leon Morrier reported on the progress of the United Nations committee which will present the program on November 13 and encouraged members to inform themselves on the topic.

Woman's Hiccups End Mysteriously After 3 Months

ATLANTA (AP) — Just as mysteriously as it started, a three-month plague of hiccups ended for Mrs. Lucy McDonald.

When the 38-year-old mother of three arrived home over the weekend from a month's stay in a hospital, the spasms stopped without any apparent reason.

She sped back to the hospital, but doctors couldn't tell her what halted the hiccups or what started them.

Mrs. McDonald, a soda fountain waitress, had tried almost everything — surgery, countless home remedies and prayer.

Womens Voters Group Hears Talk On Police Force

Robert Moser, village police commissioner, was the guest speaker at the October meeting of Saugerties Provisional League of Women Voters held last week. Commissioner Moser presented an interesting discussion of the history of the police department in Saugerties and the duties, salaries and benefits of the officers. He explained that the department operates on a budget drawn up by the Village Board, that a full complement of officers would consist of one chief, two sergeants and four patrolmen, and that the department is in the process of completing a new rules and regulations booklet for the police force. Work on this booklet was started by the last administration.

This month's program was presented by the Know Your Town committee which has recently published and soon will distribute a map of the election districts of Saugerties.

Commissioner Moser was preceded on the program by Mrs. William Zeigler who gave a detailed and informative talk of the history of water in Saugerties. Mrs. Robert LaChance, a member of the voters service committee, showed those present a chart of the candidates for the town offices to be filled this year. The chart also described the terms, present salaries and duties of these officials.

Mrs. Leon Morrier reported on the progress of the United Nations committee which will present the program on November 13 and encouraged members to inform themselves on the topic.

Woman's Hiccups End Mysteriously After 3 Months

ATLANTA (AP)—Just as mysteriously as it started, a three-month plague of hiccups ended for Mrs. Lucy McDonald. When the 38-year-old mother of three arrived home over the weekend from a month's stay in a hospital, the spasms stopped without any apparent reason.

She sped back to the hospital, but doctors couldn't tell her what halted the hiccups or what started them.

Mrs. McDonald, a soda fountain waitress, had tried almost everything—surgery, countless home remedies and prayer.

Model Home Fire Is Being Probed

Fire in a model home at Windemere Heights housing development at Cherry Lane, Saugerties, early Sunday afternoon is under investigation by Ulster County Investigator Thomas Mayone.

The fire was discovered by a Mrs. Aldridge, who resides across the street, when she went to open the home Sunday afternoon for inspection, Mayone reported. The house was filled with dense smoke and indicated the fire had been under way for some time. It was located in a basement bedroom bed, Mayone said.

When the home was closed at 7 p. m. Saturday by Edward Noonan, general manager of the project, there was no sign of fire.

Royal Family

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When pretty Carolyn Jelley of Sidney, Ohio, was named Angus Queen at the State Fair, she succeeded someone she knows pretty well—her sister Kathleen. And who did Kathleen succeed last year? Herself. She has been Angus Queen the past two years.

Saugerties firemen were summoned first but the house is located in the Glasco District and Mayone said, when Glasco firemen arrived at the scene under Chief Charles Cafaldo, the back door was found unlocked. It had been locked the previous night by Noonan. Mayone said the fire had been smoldering in the bed for some time and there was extensive smoke damage throughout the house. The bed in which the fire apparently started was destroyed.
